BEST BUYS FOR THE WEEK

In Torrance Markets

Let's peek at summer fruit promises: Kern County expects to harvest Springtime peaches the first week of May. A week later a new peach, Bronchon, will appear in very limited amounts. This will be the first commercial crop of this variety developed by the University. Let's watch for it. Kern also reports that Beauty plums will be harvested by the end of May with their Santa Rosas following a week later. California apples may be adversely affected by the hot weather we've been having. The trees were in full bloom and the set may not be good. Some apricot growers report highly irregular sets of apricots, but it is too soon to know whether the total volume of fruit will be curtailed. But cherry growers hopefully say that a heavy set of fruit has taken and a large crop may be reported.

Valencia oranges have practically replaced the navels which have held their fine quality. Small-sized oranges carry the lowest price tags.

STRAWBERRIES. All we need is more of this warm weather for sharply increased supplies.

AVOCADOS are in moderate supply.

BANANAS and GRAPEFRUIT of fine quality are plentiful. SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY GRAPES are on the stands, but most of them are only fair quality.

ARTICHOKES are coming from all producing areas. Fine quality.

Other abundant vegetables: BEETS, BROCCOLI, CABBAGE, CAULIFLOWER (watch quality), CELERY, GREEN ONIONS.

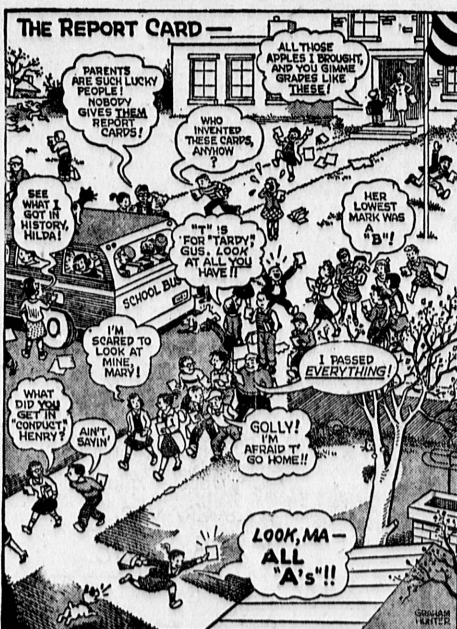

PLUGS EXPOSITION . . . Councilman John S. Gibson, who represents the Shoestring Strip and the Harbor Area on the Los Angeles City Council, is shown accepting tickets from Marvin L. Rubin, president of the Hava Java Corp., for the "Start Your Own Business Exposition," which will be held at the Shrine Exposition Hall, featuring new products and ideas on business opportunities for individuals.

BRAND NEW . . . A sparkling new fire engine destined to go into service here is unloaded as it arrives in Torrance on a freight car from the East where it was manufactured to Torrance specifications. The new equipment will be placed on duty as soon as it can be checked out and hoses installed, officials said. (Herald Photo)
